DANVILLE AND VICINITY.

Mr. W. Logan Wood, a former Lincoln county citizen, who narrowly escaped losing his life when the gas machine in Fox & Logan's stable exploded some weeks ago, has recovered with the exception of his eyes. His sight was considerably impaired and he is compelled to wear glasses. Mr. Harry C. King, the popular and efficient job printer, who formerly held down a case in the Danville News office, and who is now one of the INTERIOR JOURNAL's head men, was mixing with old friends here Saturday.

Leck Logan, colored, who was given a sentence of three years in the penitentiary for stealing hogs of Richard Cobb last summer, has been returned to Danville to testify in a sensational suit in which Walter Denham, a well-known coal dealer, plays the leading role. It is charged that Denham purchased the hogs of Logan and at the time knew they were stolen. Denham is a young white man and bears a splendid reputation, being a member of the Odd Fellows lodge. Messrs. Robert Harding, C. C. Bagby and John W. Rawlings represent Denham, while Hon. John Sam Owsley has charge of the prosecution.

J. E. Wood, a colored Baptist preacher of Danville, has gone to Washington City to call on President Roosevelt with reference to securing for Kentucky colored politicians a greater share of the Federal patronage. Wood was accompanied to Washington by 15 or 20 of the leading colored citizens of the State. They were admitted to the presence of the strenuous rough rider, but he didn't care to listen to their little tale of woe and they wrote a letter and Representative Irwin carried it to the president. The colored men were granted interviews with Representatives Boring and Irwin and were introduced to prominent politicians from other States. Wood is one of the most prominent and learned men of his race in Kentucky and mainly through his energy and enterprise an $18,000 church has been erected in Danville.

B. S. Kenerick, who is wanted in Stanford by Erick Bremer for beating his board bill, worked the same game on Rice's Hotel in this city and it is reported that he left a small indebtedness behind when he took leave of general Dan McCullum's hospitality at Junction City. Kenerick worked an advertising scheme here by which the advertiser could insert their cards in a directory for the Catholic church.

After Kenerick had gone, it was discovered that the directory was unauthorized and Father Pike published a card to that effect. In this enlightened period of this world's history it is remarkable to what a great extent business men of years' experience can be hoodooed into quack advertising schemes, and more especially if the hoodooer is a stranger and expects to spend the money in some other town.

Tomorrow, Wednesday night, "Reaping the Harvest" will appear at the Danville Opera House. It is highly commended by the press and a crowded house will doubtless witness the performance. The play abounds with the richness of comedy and most convincing sentiment and pathos. As may be judged from its title, the play deals with those who sow unwisely. It tells a most delightfully fascinating story of the heart, and is pronounced one of the strongest character studies the stage has ever known. The same cast that launched this piece into popular favor at the beginning of this, its first season, is still intact. The scenery and mechanical effects used in the production of "Reaping the Harvest" are the latest and best procurable. The third act set, showing the gardens of Kronos' Tavern, is the costliest and most elaborate scenic display ever presented. Stanford people desiring to attend may have seats reserved by telephoning to Manager C. T. Veatch at Danville.

LANCASTER.

The candy-pulling given by the Junior Endeavor Society was a success, netting about $6.

Black leg among cattle has again appeared in some parts of the county with losses to a few farmers.

Tobacco and hemp are being brought to local buyers and large shipments have been made from this point.

Mrs. Clara Hoffman, a temperance lecturer, will deliver an address Sunday afternoon at the Christian church.

T. S. Elkin bought some butcher cattle of Victor Lear at $3/cwt; also some of C. A. Robinson at same and some hogs at $5/cwt.

Misses Annie Royston and Alice Henderson are preparing an entertainment to be given at the opera house on Feb. 21st.

Almost a flood in the way of rain, a heavy fall of snow and much colder, marks the weather changes in less than three days.

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society will hold an open session Sunday night at the Christian church in celebration of its 21st anniversary.

This community in the next few weeks will be flooded with entertainments of various kinds. The Masonic order contemplates giving a performance about Feb. 28th.

Misses Nora Phillips and Mary Lynn Fox, of Lincoln, are charming guests of Mrs. Calvin Nevius. Miss Little Brown, of Lexington, is with her uncles, W. S. and Richard Beazley.

The Garrard County Medical Society elected its board of officers at the convention held at the Garrard Hotel Friday evening. Dr. H. C. Herring was elected president and Dr. Grant secretary.

The "Continental Kettle Drum," the amateur entertainment given Friday night proved to be the hit of the season. The leading characters acted their parts so well that a request has been made to have it repeated.

Dr. W. I. Wesley and H. M. Grant spent Sunday with Dr. Carpenter in Stanford. Mr. Harve Helm and Miss Mary Bruce, Dr. and Mrs. Carpenter, of Stanford, attended the "Continental Kettle Drum" given at the opera house Friday evening.

A number of counties in Central Kentucky have secured rural mail routes. Garrard, for her area has as good turnpikes as can be found and there is no reason why the county should not have all the advantages given other sections. Congressman Gilbert's attention should be called to the matter.

Mrs. Saunders, after an illness of a year, died at her home near McCreary Saturday and was buried Sunday at the Saunders burying ground. She had been in failing health for some time and was 70 years of age. She leaves a husband, and two brothers, W. H. and Thomas Wherritt, of this place, two sisters living at Vicksburg, Miss., and a daughter, Mrs. Jackson.

George Smith, Jr., has been appointed a notary public. A Mr. Williams has opened a coal-yard in the vicinity of the depot. Matt Siler has been appointed constable and night watchman. Messrs. Neil Buford and West, of Nicholasville, visited the Misses Arnold Sunday. Mrs. J. S. Baughman, of Boyle, has been with Miss Dove Harris. Mr. Howard Bruce, a former Lancaster boy, has accepted a position as professor of mathematics in the Mt. Bacon Military Academy at Fishkill-on-the-Hudson. Mr. Bruce is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Brown, of this place.

Daniel Cheatham, son of Elisha Cheatham, shot and killed himself Friday at his home near Bryantsville. He was a bride-groom of three weeks and was standing by his wife with a pistol in his hand when he placed the weapon to his temple and remarked: "This is the way if you want to kill yourself, but this will do just as well," and as he lowered the muzzle to his mouth a loud report was heard and he fell at the feet of his bride. He was at times somewhat reckless and was imprisoned here for a short while for shooting on the highway. He was only 21 years of age. No cause is assigned for the deed, except a possible lover's quarrel.

A GOOD RECOMMENDATION.

I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is most invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy?

Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

.. A RELIABLE REMEDY FOR BOWEL TROUBLES.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Redford St. M. E. Church, Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me great pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic; Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have never known it to fail." For sale by Craig & Hocker, druggists.

The old log school house is not exactly a thing of the past. Of the schoolhouses in Kentucky, 6,752 are frame, 150 are brick and 1,238 are log buildings. The houses built during last year were 218, of which 188 were for whites and 30 for colored pupils.

Advantages of Free Rural Delivery.

The statement is frequently made by the United States postoffice authorities that Kentucky is far behind the other States in its application for rural free delivery. It is also a notorious fact that Lincoln county is behind the other Blue Grass counties in its applications for this delivery.

Kentucky and Lincoln county are especially adapted for this service, as their pikes are among the very best in the world, and the postal authorities require good roads before a free delivery service will be established on any route.

To secure this service the only requirement is to get 100 or more heads of families living on a proposed route to sign a petition, asking the postoffice department to grant it.

After the department has granted the service on a particular route those who desire their mail delivered thereon must erect boxes at their front gates; these boxes are approved by the government and cost from $1 to $3. The department has approved some 15 different boxes, and one of these must be erected. Thus the only cost to persons living on a route will be the first cost of a box. After the service has been put in on a route the postoffice department appoints a carrier. This carrier is paid by the government. His duties are to go over the route once every day, Sunday excepted, deliver all mail to the various boxes, and take up all letters and papers for mailing, and sell stamps and postoffice money orders. An effort has been made to secure signatures to petitions for three or four different routes in this county, but it seems that the country people are not taking the interest in the matter as they should.

Not only is rural free delivery of great convenience and benefit to the farming community, but it is also the greatest stimulus for good roads, for wherever a route has been established those who have not its benefits, but see its advantages, at once get up petitions for a route and begin to improve their roads, so that a route can be established in their neighborhoods.

It is only a question of a few years until the whole country will be a perfect net-work of free delivery routes. The Northern and Western States are sending in petitions to the department every day. We Kentuckians help pay for the service wherever established when we pay our taxes. Then why should not Lincoln county people get in the procession and get returns for some of her taxes by signing a petition for "Rural Free Delivery?"

The following four routes are now proposed:

1st Route. To start from Stanford out Lancaster pike to Rush Branch, thence to Hubbie, thence to Hedgeville, thence to forks of Stanford and Lancaster and Danville pikes, thence back to Stanford on Stanford and Danville pike, a distance of about 23 miles.

2d Route. To start from Stanford out Hustonville pike to Knob Lick pike, thence to Shelby City, thence to Milledgeville, thence Milledgeville pike back to Stanford, a distance of about 25 miles.

3d Route. To start from Stanford, thence out Somerset pike to Ottenheim pike, thence to Ottenheim, thence back to Somerset pike near J. H. Carter's, thence back to Stanford, a distance of about 21 miles.

4th Route. To start at Stanford, thence Crab Orchard pike to Crab Orchard, thence Crab Orchard and Lancaster pike to Preachersville, thence Preachersville and Stanford pike to Stanford, a distance of about 25 miles.

Those who are interested in securing any of these routes may sign petitions or get petitions for circulation by calling on W. S. Burch, whom Judge J. P. Bailey has asked to attend to this matter for this county. Other routes will be started if the people of the country are sufficiently interested in the matter to ask it.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. WALTON.

W. P. WALTON.

Is a Candidate for Railroad Commissioner for the 2d District, subject to the will of the democracy.

The biennial report of Superintendent of Public Instruction H. V. McCheeney is out of the ordinary. In addition to facts and figures regarding the common schools, the report is liberally illustrated with noted educators of learning and the pictures of the superintendent of each county, together with the special report from each. Superintendent Garland Singleton reports the schools of Lincoln county in a prosperous condition and says that the improvement during the past few years in the standard of teaching has been both marked and gratifying. "Our institute work is growing more interesting and profitable and our associations are a valuable auxiliary, arousing enthusiasm and inspiring interest. About one-fourth of our schools have libraries and we have recently added over 1,000 volumes to our teachers' library," he adds.

MR. NORTH scored a decided victory in the House Saturday. The committee on revenue and taxation reported adversely on his bill to repeal the act creating the State Board of Equalization, but he spoke in favor of ordering the bill to its second reading and notwithstanding the report of the committee to the contrary, the House by a decisive vote ordered the bill to its second reading. Mr. North has presented more bills than any one member this session and he is still at work on others.

We have it straight that Mr. Clarence E. Woods would like to be Senator McCreary's private secretary and his appointment as such would greatly please Mr. Woods' friends all over the State. He has been an ardent supporter of Senator McCreary for some 20 years and while he asks no reward for his good work, it would make both Mr. Woods and his friends happy to have him secure the high place of secretary to Kentucky's most distinguished citizen and Senator.

AFTER July 1, 1902, the only kind of pistol that can be sold lawfully in South Carolina, will be 22 inches long and weighing not less than three pounds. A man had just as well buy a cannon and try to carry it around in his pocket as one of those South Carolina pistols, which would put to shame the "hoss" pistol now almost forgotten.

FOR ridiculous fabrications on the late Gov. Goebel and incidents connected with his race for governor the Lexington Leader takes the cake. Some of the stories published are so silly as to be absurd and we are surprised at Editor Roberts permitting good space to be thus used.

HON. BRECKINRIDGE JONES is one of the eight prominent St. Louis gentlemen who are coming to this State to take up the Kentucky end of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Ex-Govs. Francis, Crittenden and Stone are also members of the committee.

As a giver of good gifts, John D. Rockefeller is not in it with Andrew Carnegie. A list of the gifts of each shows that the Standard Oil magnate has only $13,364,574 to his credit, while the philanthropic Scotchman has given away $46,637,852.

AS Judge Castrill put no limit on the speeches in the Howard case there is no telling when the jury will be given a chance to make a verdict. Some of Howard's attorneys are long-winded fellows and they will speak as long as they can.

POLITICAL.

J. P. Farrelly, of Nashville, was appointed privy chamberlain to the Pope. Senator Lodge proposes to keep the Philippine Tariff bill before the Senate until it is disposed of.

The Kentucky committee on criminal law has decided to report favorably the bill providing for an assistant Commonwealth's attorney in Louisville.

A bill introduced in the House prohibits the use of any text books in Kentucky schools which do not give full credit to Admiral Schley for the Santiago victory.

Senator McCreary will go to the Senate with practically united party organization at his back, and his appearance in the National Legislature will be but one of many evidences that National democracy is tightening itself and making ready for a reassertion of its old vigor and strength.—Buffalo Times.

President Roosevelt reappointed A. F. Willis postmaster at Nashville.

Hon. M. F. North, of this county, is one of the House Steering Committee. The credentials of Senator-elect Jas. B. McCreary were placed on file in the United States Senate yesterday.

A sharp fight has developed against the State Capitol Bill. Opposition is said to be based on the location of the capitol at Frankfort.

The Senate committee on the Philippines has decided to enter upon a thorough investigation of the conditions in the archipelago as suggested by Senator Hoar.

A clause may be inserted in the Kentucky revenue bill levying a tax on rectified or blended whisky. It is also probable that the bill will provide for a tax on nonresident insurance agents.

In joint session the two houses of the Legislature elected Miss Pauline Helm Hardin State Librarian. The republicans, on motion of Mr. Worthington, voted to make her election unanimous.

The new Senatorial district as suggested by the committee takes Casey out of the 18th district and puts it in the Russell district. Jessamine county is put in its place.

The General Assembly may adjourn from Wednesday until Friday to give the members an opportunity to go to Louisville upon the occasion of Rear Admiral Schley's visit.

The Holland bill to provide an increase of the State tax rate to pay for the support of a Statehouse commission of nine men at salaries of $100 a month from now until the capitol is completed, is conceded to be dead.

Correspondent Graham's history of the battle of Santiago Bay will meet with one obstacle. It was written by a man who saw it, and the most salable histories are those written by men who merely heard about it.—Bryan's Commoner.

At his reception at the Chicago Press Club Admiral Schley made it plain that he was not a candidate for any office whatever. He said: "I am not going into any office of any character, however high it may be. I would not accept any position which would jeopardize the love which you bear for me. I want my children and my family to retain that love and keep it forever as the sweetest heritage of their lives."
